

GROUP 4: ASSETS WORTH LESS THAN $2,200

Workshop 3: Our Choices

Dosu

I am 12 years old. My parents split up and my father sold me to a lady in neighbouring Nigeria. The lady told me to be quiet and stop crying. I lived there for three months on my own and was totally scared. Lots of families in Benin are poor and many children are trafficked or involved in child labour. My mother was tracked down 4 years later. She is remarried now and wants me to come back.

"I find it hard to go home. I'm only just starting to feel myself again and don't feel ready to be reunited."

Benin?

What is child trafficking?

In the case of Dosu, which of his rights have been violated from this experience?

What are some of the effects of being kept out of school at such a young age?
